

I have been a subscriber of XM radio for about 6 months. I choose to pay for a service which allows me to listen to a variety of music, news, and programs without commercial interruption or constant deejay banter. The traffic/weather information is a godsend because it is always on. As a listener, trying to make driving/dress decisions out the door or in traffic, not having to wait 8 minutes for the next broadcast by FM/AM broadcasters or even television is invaluable! I have no regrets with subscribing to and paying for XM satellite radio, and plan to continue my patronage. I support XM, and ask the FCC to reject the NAB's petition 04-160. Sincerely-
Christean Christensen
